I will simultaneously honor HIPAA and be incendiary. The queer pale triad of an immigrant MD, a compromised LCSW's police state agent's daughter, and a suburban neoliberalist with an MPA and JD is a trifecta lottery for decolonial examination. Because the personal is political, the imperial fugitive becomes psychoanalytical.

If an overeducated hypopigmented entity says she would have dinner with Audre Lorde and references White Fragility as a favorite book, understand this is an acutely terroristic psyche that weaponized credentials to cloak her malignancy.

Patriarchy and racialized terrorism are an inversion of nature's fiduciary frequency and ecological harmony.

The notion of neurodivergence is the colonial pathologization of cognitive coherence that parallels the fractal, holistic, and non-linear mycelium of nature.

A woman's perimenopausal transition into cronehood is a recalibration that facilitates a biological override of the mandated self-denial that was performed to survive in a hostile environment while having a fertile womb, a portal.

When the environment is sick, the variants of adaptation are deemed maladaptive, but in the absence of a control variable, disease becomes standard.

Pandorum, 2009: What if Earth is a simulation, and we've already arrived at the holy land, but we are in stasis because we are spiritually compromised? Could reincarnation be a mechanism for psycho-spiritual decontamination?

The Matrix Trilogy: What if Zion transformed? Could Zion no longer be a spatiotemporal location, but a quantum frequency?

Independence Day, 1996: What if we are the technology that has been commandeered? Could our independence be an existential reckoning?

Shall We Share a Kettle of Tea?

- ▶ What is patriarchy without imperialism?
- ▶ What is a patriot without a colony?
- ▶ What is a man without marriage and progeny?

Do you like lemon with your tea?

Has our culture decided to structure womanhood as an incentivized enlistment to breed the human race?

Deductively speaking, if married lesbians have the highest rate of dissolution, if heterosexual women initiate divorce proceedings by about 70%, and if men statistically are most benefited by increased quality of life in comparison to their wives, wouldn't it be fair to presume that the institution of marriage is a colonial framework?

Not to be crass, but the pattern of men leaving their wives after impregnating them, particularly before the child has grown in their permanent teeth, seems to be a predatory mammalian Y chromosome reflex, a maladaptive evolutionary pattern.

A dab of raw honey?

Precisely because a woman is genetically designed to be existentially compromised if separating from her child is most beneficial for her survival. And under a capitalist system, childbirth and becoming a single mother can be inordinately oppressive and punitive on her quality of life and that of the child.

Are women only desirable for the hunt and conquered wombs that genetically tether them to the reprobate Y chromosomes that have normalized their heterosexualized grooming as the colonial script of manhood?

Would you like me to refill your tea cup?

Structural Castration

When men have to submit their prowess to the empire's rubric of capitalist hierarchy, their primal virility is violated.

*Society pays the cost,
and women bear the debt.*

Soul Recovery as Requisition

Our firewall is the immune system.

As humans, we have three primary ports of accessible compromise.

Soul (spiritual interface): conditioning of colonization, systematized orphanhood from Mother Nature, religious malware.

Mind (bioelectrical): EMF and 5G infrastructure, social media entrainment, smart meters, Bluetooth, etc.

Body (biochemical): all things chemical, endocrine disruptors, carcinogens, PFAs, metal exposure, contaminated water.

Living in a society that has normalized the erosion of our natural sovereignty and immunological defense, colonial pathologization becomes the penultimate mechanism to cull our existential alarm system into subdued containment.

Therefore, mineral deficiencies, soul injuries, and diminishing returns on colonial conditioning can cascade into a person crashing out, breaking down, or exhibiting a “Karen” outburst. This is essentially a multi-system meltdown, a psychic override. Folks become most vulnerable to this existential unraveling when they’ve paid dividends through their belief system into the American Dream, which is a dynamic, malicious code that is triggered by late-stage capitalism.

The Golden Children of a matricidal carceral capitalist global system have to confront the reality that they were only tokenized as the good whites, as the good married women, as the good hard workers, as the good patriots, because a pyramid scheme requires a hierarchy to formalize competition to maintain the structure of extraction and dehumanization.

A Hearted-Womb Circle: Afternotes

1. If you bypass descent, you stagger your ascent; rage is an accelerant, not a deterrent.

2. Cognitive dissonance fractures courage.

Discomfort is a fixed condition of incarnation; however, between the conscription into coerced consent that normalizes self-abandonment as matriarchal martyrdom, or self-ownership, if you're going to file spiritual bankruptcy, your soul deserves to be the primary lender.

You can default on the world, never yourself.

3. Grief is a doorway for transition; a process of shedding to facilitate your refinement.

4. My body is my child,
my mind is my father,
and my soul is my mother.

I am a holy trinity of adaptive evolutionary coherence.

5. Love is an eternal radio frequency, and our soul's resonance determines our access to its station.

6. When you trade your clarity and humanity for patriotism to white terrorism, both your soul and womb become atrophied.

7. A sovereign strategist is

Internal Audit of Medicaid Fraud 2025

If my initial visit to the New York Presbyterian Weill Cornell's Emergency Room on June 4th resulted in a submitted Claim to HealthFirst on June 10th, which received its payment by June 18th, with all of my HealthFirst Member Details being accurate, why was paper sorcery legible for the submitted Claim for the subsequent ER visit on June 6th?

On June 6th, I returned to the same ER, where I requested specific labs be drawn, which indicated I was experiencing an acute immunological reaction, per my elevated creatinine and White Blood Cell levels. I was then drug tested without my consent.

With empirical medical evidence of a physiological crisis, I was diverted by means of medical trafficking into the psychiatric carceral system operating within New York Presbyterian's Colonial Medical Structure, for a period of 14 days.

When released on June 20th, NYP Westchester Psych Division submitted its Claim to HealthFirst on June 26th, but the payment wasn't issued until December 10th, to the tune of $19,566.44.

What's most curious is that none of the diagnosis codes on the Claim correlated to my actual presenting symptoms. Due to the rap sheet of having any diagnostic psychiatric label, let's accept their fiction of me experiencing psychosis, as they adamantly dismissed and gaslit my elevated creatinine and white blood cell labs, which normalized while in their captivity; I'll withhold contestation.

However, they also had the diagnosis codes that indicated a presentation of elevated prolactin, alcohol addiction in remission, and vitamin D deficiency. These latter three are utter fictions—delusional, intentional fraud.

NYP's own diagnostic test labs, which are posted on MyChart, can support my lucidity. Although I've never identified or presumed the identity of someone addicted to alcohol, I was definitely dependent on marijuana, not alcohol.

Most interestingly, the initial ER visit on June 4th, which granted my freedom for an apparent 48 more hours, had its Claim resolved in 8 days.

But the most significant detail in this hyper-evident pattern of Medicaid Fraud is that the two separate Claims exhibit a distinct dissimilarity in my date of birth.

For the record, I'm an Aquarian, born in the 80s, but on the Claim submitted to embezzle HealthFirst for trafficking me between June 6th to June 20th, my date of birth is listed as August 12th, 2014.

I don't know how many 10-year-olds are in remission from alcohol addiction, have elevated prolactin levels, and are vitamin-D deficient, while supposedly experiencing a manic episode.

It's rather unfathomable that being a HealthFirst Harp Member for about a decade, with no change in demographic details, aside from a legal name change, that the same facility had two Medical Claims submitted within about two weeks of each other, and for convenient reasons to undermine my withheld consent and denial of signed paperwork, on the suspiciously fraudulent Claim that took 167 days to be resolved, not only is my date of birth forged, but the Claim Details do not correspond to the $19,566.44 that was paid.

Why would NYP list me as 10 years old when I was held against my will? Why would NYP ignore my redundant request for discharge papers to administratively document my revoked consent, from their Medicaid Farrell Clinic, for six months? Why did I have to disenroll from Medicaid?

Housing = perpetual land feudalism, renting from an extortionist nation. Ownership is negligible.

Food = farming is unsustainable when land is unowned and increasingly inaccessible, whilst grocery stores curate an inventory of bioengineered edibles that are laced with endocrine disruptors and metabolic chemical weapons.

Employment = At will. No true legal protection or recourse. No regard for quality of life.

Mandated Education = a loan heist from the state to public and private Universities and Colleges. Loans cannot be discharged and accrue interest like a loan shark.

Health Insurance = medicalized colonial paternalism and sadism as institutionalized control.

Bank Glitches (Chase & Klarna) and PPP Loans = Entrapment to legally justify carceral roundups.

Per this survey, if I were to conclude that we have been hemmed in by economic and administrative warfare, would that be a conspiratorial ideation?

What about these electric bills? Are we being existentially evicted by the passive-aggressive collusion of private and public interests through state-sanctioned violence?

Moreover, why are cashews so damn expensive? I need my nuts.

Earth is a trap house for egregores;
Citizenship is regulated slavery.

Women were economically coerced into marriage because the legal structure makes the white man, or any man, a proxy for state control, as the family unit becomes a mini-corporation.

The same way women were coerced into marriage for economic security, society en masse has been manipulated into debt-based credentials that do not educate but indoctrinate, with the dangling apple of financial security, which has now resulted in state-sanctioned garnishment of people's income amidst an undeclared recession and hyperinflation.

To be clear:
I am not a democrat.

An intelligent ecological system

Ancestral Recall

You should sniff your socks, your underwear, your scalp, your armpits, and any buildup of dead tissue on your body.

Before we hear the crackle,
before we see the smoke,
before any alarm
or broadcast,
we smell.

We ought to feel vibrational shifts like our fellow mammalian relatives, but let's start small.

I fundamentally believe that, as an ecological collapse of the psychopathic carceral economic system teeters, we should revert to ancient systems of well-being.
From Root Work, Traditional

Chinese Medicine, to Ayurveda and beyond.

Health insurance is a money laundering scheme, and your illness is the profit margin.

A revival of the primal is a sovereign re-indigenization of health as revolutionary.

Safety is Preemptive

If you were to go skydiving without a parachute, that would seem implausible because we appreciate gravity.

If you were to engage in water sports, such as whitewater rafting, and you didn't know how to swim, it would be unfathomable not to wear a life vest, again, because of gravity.

If you thought of jumping as high up off the ground and didn't have a trampoline, that would seem very irresponsible, again, because we have learned to respect the dictates of gravity as we recognize how vulnerable we are to mortality.

Therefore, your emotional boundaries protect the gravity of your soul's dexterity.

If someone attempts to minimize or manipulate your requisite boundaries for emotional, nutritional, physical, intellectual, and spiritual safety, this is not something to negotiate.

Do not gaslight your somatic perception of the red flag.

This individual and the employment of this tactic is a soft weapon to hack your ontological integrity, and if you believe this person means you well, you must understand that your soul can be fractured.

This society loves nothing more than to prey on what is wounded and disempowered.

Testimony: 01

My endometrial pain was treated as a minor inconvenience when the somatic agony was suicide-adjacent. Had I not canceled my surgical gynecological appointment, my womb would have been excavated.

When I fully realized the limitless threshold for medical sadism, I chose to abstain from any consumption of caffeine in my diet. That singular decision not only eliminated my endometrial pain, but my menstrual cycles are pleasant experiences that require nothing more than a Diva Cup and Thinx underwear; Health First Medicaid Insurance would fund neither item.

21st Century: Q2 Query

A. If our brains are not fully developed until ages 25 through 30, why are we coerced into a rampant conveyor belt that demands our accumulation of debt, degrees, and marriage?

B. If currency is fiat, based on a top-down, abusive, and monopolized consensus, and can be devalued by inflation, bank seizures, or stolen with no legal recourse, why do we place so much value on something we have precarious power over?

C. If specialization were truly a means to achieve expertise, why do people seem most inept in their fragmentation and dissociation from the holistic dimension of understanding, which enables the root cause to be identified and resolved?

D. If death is a promise of being born, and our economic incarceration under democratic capitalism discards people between ages 40 and 50, would we benefit from redefining embodied wealth into a relationally shared intercommunal paradigm of being?

E. If language has been the psychic tool of colonization, would the growing literacy and comprehension decline be an escalation of ontological warfare?

Affidavit of a Psychiatric Carceral Fugitive

My name is Zisa Aziza. Due to the medical trafficking of Medicaid recipients into psychiatric incarceration to systemically loot reimbursements and institutionally compromise any complaints of environmental hazards, I have disenrolled from income-based Medicaid through HealthFirst because my safety is in jeopardy.

After repeatedly requesting discharge paperwork from the New York Presbyterian Farrell Clinic, a Medicaid-only facility, over the past five months, I understood that policy and procedure would not protect me.

On December 30th, 2025, I learned that NYP Hospital charged HealthFirst $145,000 for an involuntary 14-day hold, whilst denying me medical care as I was experiencing an acute neuro-immunological reaction to mold toxicity and VOC's that was triggered by the purchase of a cheap WiFi camera (dirty electricity) because a neighbor had been chemically harassing me for over a year.

Although I called 311 3x, went to the ER 3x, filed a complaint with Housing Preservation and Development, Services for the Underserved, and requested third-party oversight from the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, I have only experienced stonewalling, deflection, gaslighting and three attempts at constructive eviction from Supportive Housing by Robert Schwartz, an HPD Case Manager, Nefta Sterling, a Lease Manager of Compliance at Concord Management of NY, and a fraudulent Abatement letter issued by HPD at the bequest of Gail Wolsk, a Senior Director at DOHMH.

Today, December 31st, 2025, is the last day of my active HealthFirst insurance. I, a citizen of these Corrupted and Inflamed United States have chosen, for the first time in my life, to relinquish health insurance to ensure my bodily autonomy against state-sanctioned and incentivized psychiatric detainment.

I stand at the epicenter of administrative erasure and bureaucratic lynching.

Therefore, to whom do I file my dissertation on institutional genocide?

Murder is not procedural and my silence would be a collusive act in protecting a “liability” that is merely self-advocacy.
